III. Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability

1. The questions whether the claimed invention appears to be novel, to involve an inventive step (to be non obvious), or to be industrially applicable have not been and will not be examined in respect of:

☐ the entire international application.

☒ claims Nos. 1-14 and 26-44

because:

☐ the said international application, or the said claim Nos. _ relate to the following subject matter which does not require international preliminary examination (specify).

☐ the description, claims or drawings (indicate particular elements below) or said claims Nos. _ are so unclear that no meaningful opinion could be formed (specify).

☐ the claims, or said claims Nos. _ are so inadequately supported by the description that no meaningful opinion could be formed.

☒ no international search report has been established for said claims Nos. 1-14 and 26-44.

2. A meaningful international preliminary examination cannot be carried out due to the failure of the nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence listing to comply with the standard provided for in Annex C of the Administrative Instructions:

☐ the written form has not been furnished or does not comply with the standard.

☐ the computer readable form has not been furnished or does not comply with the standard.

Box III TEXT OF THE ABSTRACT (Continuation of item 5 of the first sheet)

NEW ABSTRACT

This invention is a passive conductor assembly for use with an implanted device having an intra-cavitarily or trans-venously disposed electrode. The assembly can include electrical components in electrical communication therewith which provide for the manipulation, and/or modification of the electrical stimulus or waveform generated by the implanted stimulus generator, which can be designed, for example, to selectively stimulate only neural tissue, not cardiac tissue or vice versa through the same passive conductor assembly.
